THE UNIVERSITY AND GRADUATE SCHOOL

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

The Graduate School oversees graduate education at Purdue University. Regardless of your department, all graduate students are officially enrolled and receive their degrees from the Graduate School. Questions about academic requirements, student progress or performance, grievance procedures, and faculty-student relationships that cannot be addressed within individual departments may be directed to the Graduate School deans. Also, the Graduate School has established a formal procedure through which students may appeal decisions made by departmental graduate committees. For more information you can visit their website: www.gradschool.purdue.edu

HOW TO GRADUATE IN THE MINIMUM AMOUNT OF TIME (AND OTHER POINTERS)

Purdue University has a set of procedures and regulations that you need to review and become familiarized with. Because these procedures may differ among departments, we suggest that you contact your departmental graduate chair in regards to specific policies. We also recommend that you get a copy of the following publications:

- University Regulations: <http://www.purdue.edu/oop/univregs/>
- The Graduate School Bulletin (or your departmental published requirements on graduation)
- Traffic and Parking Regulations

And if you are an international student:

- International Student Handbook

Once you are nearing graduation, you may also want to review the template for writing a thesis or dissertation. These can be obtained at:

- A Manual for the Preparation of Graduate Theses
<http://www.gradschool.purdue.edu/thesis.cfm>

Read these guidelines and as soon as you can, file a plan of study with the Graduate School. A plan of study protects you from changes in your department. If you know the rules, they can help you throughout your Purdue experience. Several publications and additional information can be found at The Graduate School website.

FEE REMISSIONS FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS AND STAFF

Graduate students with assistantships and fellowships have all but approximately $900 (depending upon the department) for general fees remitted each semester. International students are also required to pay an additional fee that helps maintain services provided by the ISS office. These include but are not limited to: tax counseling, reports to home country, visa assistance, and federal reporting. Note that to be paid as a graduate student staff member, an individual must be enrolled as a full-time graduate student. Also, note that to be paid during the summer, you must register for summer school; however, the fees are around half of the normal semester fees. If you have questions about this, contact your departmental business office.

RESIDENCE STATUS FOR TUITION PURPOSES

If you are paying your own tuition, the benefits of in-state residency are obvious: in-state fees are much cheaper! If you are on a teaching or research assistantship, your residence classification currently will not affect your out-of-pocket expenses. New rules make it harder to switch from out-of-state to in-state status. International students typically pay out-of-state fees when they are not on graduate assistantships. When they are on an assistantship, international students pay in-state fees. The Graduate School is responsible for initial residence classification of all graduate students. The Office of the Registrar is responsible for the residence reclassification of continuing students. Each case is considered on an individual basis. It is suggested that you address your residence inquiries to: Office of the Registrar, Room 45, Hovde Hall. You may call 494-6165 to ask questions or make an appointment.

TAXES

You will have to file taxes every year if you receive payment from Purdue. You should contact your departmental business office for specific information regarding your tax situation. International graduate staff is required to visit the Payroll Office in Freehafer Hall of Administrative Services as soon as possible.

TEACHING AND RESEARCH ASSISTANTSHIPS

Stipends for all teaching and research assistantships are subject to taxation, and the University is required to withhold taxes from all such payments. Fee remissions for teaching and research assistantships are not subject to taxation. Your teaching and research assistantships are not subject to Social Security withholdings.

FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

The part of a fellowship or a scholarship that is used for tuition and course-related expenses, such as books and supplies, is not taxable. The rest of the fellowship or scholarship (living expenses, travel, etc.) is considered taxable income. The University does not withhold taxes from these awards.

TAX DEFERRED ANNUITY (TDA)

As a graduate student staff member of Purdue University, you may be eligible to participate in a tax deferred annuity (TDA), along with other faculty and staff members. TDAs permit you to accumulate additional retirement savings of your own to supplement retirement benefits from Social Security and other pension plans. Contributions to TDAs are made on a salary reduction or tax-deferred basis. This means that money you put into your TDA is not taxed until withdrawn during retirement.

Individuals who begin TDAs early in their careers find that their options are expanded for early retirement and higher income levels during retirement. While you may start a TDA at any time, the earlier started, the greater the flexibility provided.

PURDUE LIBRARIES

Purdue has a decentralized library system. The Purdue University Libraries consist of the HSSE (Humanities, Social Science, and Education Library) located in Stewart Center, the John W. Hicks Undergraduate Library, which is located underground in front of Stewart Center, and additional school and departmental libraries located throughout campus. The complete card catalog for the University libraries (through 1990), the Interlibrary Loan Service, the majority of the master's and Ph.D. theses written at Purdue, and a number of other services are available in the HSSE Library.

The John W. Hicks Undergraduate Library is geared toward undergraduate students, with an emphasis on general reference materials, popular reading materials (i.e., paperbacks, magazines, along with American and foreign newspapers). Purdue has a relatively large subscription to electronic journals, as well as many other web-based resources. Many items that can not be found online or in the library holdings can be requested through interlibrary loan (ILL). We recommend that you become familiar with the library website: <http://www.lib.purdue.edu/>

Hicks Library also has numerous group and individual study spaces, extended hours, and a comfortable lounge. Adjoining the undergraduate library is a 24-hour study lounge and the Undergrounds Coffee Shop. The Digital Learning Collaboratory (DLC) and various reserve materials are located in the lower level of the Undergraduate Library. At the DLC students can check out laptop computers, video cameras, digital cameras and other multimedia software.

FINANCIAL AID AND STUDENT EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Each year, approximately 60% of Purdue's graduate students are supported by graduate appointments. It is in your best interest to keep well informed about the changing financial situation and financial assistance opportunities available. A description of selected fellowships, traineeships, and appointments for graduate students is available on the Graduate School website: <http://www.gradschool.purdue.edu/>.

This comprehensive listing presents a summary of appointments available throughout the University. International students typically are not eligible for any fellowships funded by the federal government, and can work for only a maximum of 20 hours (0.50 FTE) per week during the fall and spring semesters. They are, however, allowed to work the full 40 hours per week during the summer. For additional inquiries, you may contact the Office of International Students and Scholars (ISS), Schleman Hall, Room 136.

The Division of Financial Aid Office, located on the third floor of Schleman Hall, can assist you with student loans. You need to file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to have eligibility determined for federal student loans. You also may request a FAFSA application through the Financial Aid Voice Response System by calling 494-5050 or file online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>.

MY PURDUE

This summer a new online student system was launched. You can access this system using the myPurdue portal: <http://mypurdue.purdue.edu>

Registration for classes is through this system, and because it is a new system there is a lot of information available on the website. You can also use it to access your personal information, financial aid, your academic records (grades are posted here), make transcript requests, file your plan of study, and also change your contact information.

My Purdue can also be used to look up individuals at the University, change your profile, and forward your Purdue email to any email address you specify. To find out more about Mail*Hub, visit <https://www.itap.purdue.edu/directory/>

GRADUATE ORGANIZATIONS

Getting the most out of your time at Purdue means getting involved. Thus, we recommend contacting the student activities and organizations office at 494-1231 for a list of the different organizations that may be of interest to you. The database for student organizations is also available at: http://www.purdue.edu/odos/sao/student_organization_database.htm however, is not strictly behind the doors of the RSC. Outside are horseshoe pits, volleyball courts and basketball courts, and 125 acres of baseball diamonds. There are 23 tennis courts west of the RSC and a mulch-covered jogging trail. For more information, call 494-3109.

• Intramural Sports (494-3117): For individuals interested in intramural sports, there are many available in several divisions (Grad, Faculty, & Staff; co-rec; etc.). Each division has a wide range of sports. For more information, visit: <http://www.purdue.edu/RecSports/programs/imsports.html>.

BARS

We have compiled a listing of our popular bars in West Lafayette and Lafayette. This is only a sampling of the bars in the area; there are several others to visit in the Greater Lafayette Area. Note that the drinking age in Indiana is 21, and you can expect to be carded in most bars. Indiana law does permit you to be in a bar/restaurant before 9:00PM if you are 18-21 if you are accompanied by your parents, but most establishments prefer that you not push this rule.

All public places, including bars and restaurants (with few exemptions) in West Lafayette do not allow smoking. As of September 1, 2008 all Lafayette public places (with few exemptions) that do not allow anyone under 21 at any time will be smoke-free as well.

In Indiana, beer and wine can be sold in grocery and drug stores. Liquor can be sold in liquor stores and some drug stores, but there are limits on the total volume a drug store can sell to one customer. Keep in mind that Indiana now has an "open container" law, which prohibits open containers of alcohol in motor vehicles.

Indiana law restricts the sale of alcohol on Sundays except restaurants (with no "carry-outs" allowed)., Most bars qualify as restaurants because they serve food of some kind.

DINING OFF-CAMPUS

With the recent culinary boom in the Greater Lafayette area, it would be next to impossible to list even a small number of restaurants here. Several are already listed in the Bars and Late-Night Dining sections of this handbook; others can be found in the local Yellow Pages under restaurants. Also, a local website provides reviews and suggestions: <http://www.lafayette-online.com/VBD/dining/>. You can also try <http://www.lafayette-in.com/dining.html> for additional dining ideas.

LIVING IN GREATER LAFAYETTE

CAMPUS HOUSING

Graduate students can choose to live either on campus or off campus. The University offers on-campus housing through Hawkins Hall for single students, Purdue Village for married students, and also off-campus housing through the Purdue Research Foundation.

Hawkins Hall provides double and single rooms for single students. Many other facilities such as washers and dryers, a workout facility, and recreational services are provided. A student needs to sign a contract to live there, which is binding for the full academic year unless you leave Purdue. For more information, contact: Housing Secretary, Graduate Housing, Hawkins Hall, (494-7187) or visit: <http://www.housing.purdue.edu/HousingChoices/Hawkins.htm>

The Purdue Village offers housing for married graduate students and single parents on the southwest side of campus. They offer 9-month and 12-month (summer extension) leases for unfurnished apartments. Housing includes a living room/kitchen, one or two bedrooms (two bedrooms available only for families with children), and a bathroom. Washers and dryers are located in the basement of each building. All apartments come with utilities paid (including Purdue Cable) except for long distance and internet. For more information, contact Purdue Village Housing Office, 250 Nimitz Drive, West Lafayette, (494-2090) or visit: http://www.housing.purdue.edu/HousingChoices/Purdue_Village.html

NOTE: Rates are subject to change without notice. For the current rates, please visit: http://www.housing.purdue.edu/ProspectiveStudent/NewStudent_Rates.htm

The Purdue Research Foundation (PRF) owns many houses near the campus. These houses are well kept, as Physical Facilities maintains them just like the actual campus buildings. Rents are usually lower than average; pets are permitted in PRF houses (not apartments) with a pet deposit. For more information, contact: Real Estate Manager, Purdue Research Foundation, Division of Real Estate and Housing, 201 Russell Street #4, West Lafayette, (496-6245) or visit: http://www.prf.org/prf_residential.asp

DON'T WANT TO PAY FOR HOUSING?

You can also be a graduate staff resident for Hawkins Hall with a primary role of acting as a liaison between management and student residents. You are also expected to handle weekend desk duty, serve as temporary building deputy, and assist in planning social activities for the resident graduate students. This requires a maximum of 20 hours per week: a small price to pay for a private room, phone, and remission of University fees and tuition except for staff fees. The University also tacks on a cash stipend. Applications may be obtained at the office in Hawkins Graduate House.

You can also be a resident assistant (RA) for undergraduate halls. This job is equivalent to a regular part-time job and requires you to be "on duty" at least four nights a week to enforce the University's many rules for undergraduate residents. The University pays tuition, provides free room and board, and also pays a small stipend. Applications for RA positions and more information can be found at <http://www.purdue.edu/housing> or call University Residences, Smalley Center (494-1000).

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING

The most common approach to housing is to live off campus. This is an involved topic, and the best method would be to consult one of the publications available from the Office of the Dean of Students in Schleman Hall. Off-Campus Housing Services, which is the largest housing resource, can be a big help in locating an apartment. For more information you can visit:

<http://www.purdue.edu/odos/administration/housing.htm>.

Most local landlords require 12-month leases, although some six- and nine-month leases are available. Typically shorter leases will result in higher rental fees. You may also sublease an apartment for a semester or a summer session from someone leaving campus. You should be careful to make sure that certain specifics are placed in writing in the lease. These include specification of who is responsible for repairs and maintenance, including mowing the lawn and snow removal; what utilities are included in the rent; and when the security deposit will be returned. You can visit myPurdue at <http://mypurdue.edu>, which maintains a searchable list of apartments in the Student Life tab. Student ratings and opinions on local housing can be viewed at:
<http://www.purdueonline.com>

For most of the apartments, a security deposit, ranging from $50 to two months' rent, is required and is returned in full if no damages are found when you move out. When entering into a housing contract or lease, it is important to know your rights and also those of your landlord. These rights are permitted by Indiana State Law; more information can be obtained for free from: Indiana Legal Services, 639 Columbia Street, P.O. Box 1455, Lafayette, IN 47902-1455 (1-800-382-7581 or 765-423-5327 or <http://www.indianajustice.org/Home/PublicWeb>).

Parking near rental property can be difficult. Many of the larger streets in West Lafayette have parking restrictions on one or both sides at certain hours, or all the time. You should examine the parking situation before renting. As far as transportation to campus is concerned (see bus section page), if you live more than 1.5

miles from the campus, you may apply for a commuter parking permit from Purdue. Information about the local transportation system can be obtained by calling Greater Lafayette Public Transportation Corporation (GLPTC) at 742-7433. For more details, please see the transit and parking at Purdue sections of this chapter.

As you look for apartments, keep in mind that many complexes have 5-10% discounts off monthly rent for graduate staff. Research assistants, teaching assistants, and students on fellowships qualify for such discounts. Contact the leasing offices of the apartment complexes you are interested in to inquire if they offer such discounts.

UTILITIES

If utilities are not included and you must pay them yourself, the utility companies can give you figures showing the past electricity and gas expenses for the apartment in which you are interested.

Gas: Vectren Energy Delivery, 1250 South Creasy Lane, Lafayette (1-800-777-2060): No deposit required for new customers, although for some, deposits depend on their credit histories, with the minimum being $70. Electricity

<http://www.duke-energy.com>

Tipmont REMC (Electric COOP) (1-800-726-3953): A deposit is required only if the person has an outstanding bill with Tipmont and/or if the electric service was previously disconnected because of payments. It usually takes one business day to connect the service. For more information, please visit: <http://www.tipmont.org>

This service is available to students living on campus in University residences as well as to faculty, staff, and students living off-campus in the greater Lafayette area. Purdue Village Residents are charged for this service. For more information, please visit:

<http://www.itap.purdue.edu/resnet/>

RECYCLING

On campus, you can recycle plastics, mixed paper, newspaper, and aluminum. Look for appropriate bins in your building.

Off campus in West Lafayette or Lafayette, if you live in a single-family dwelling that receives curbside trash service, you can request a recycling bin to place for curbside service. Recyclables must be cleaned and placed in the city-provided red recycling bins. To obtain a recycling bin for a West Lafayette address, stop by the Street Department's office located at 705 South River Road. To request a recycling bin for a Lafayette address, call the Mayor's office at 742-8404. Items accepted for pickup include plastics; clean mixed paper; cardboard; magazines; books; newsprint; clear, brown, and green glass containers (remove lids); and aluminum, bimetal and "tin" cans. All items are to be sorted.

For apartment dwellers and those in multi-family homes or duplexes not receiving curbside trash service: The city of West Lafayette operates a 24-hour recycling center at 705 South River Road, just down the street from Purdue's main campus. In addition to the recyclables listed above, the center accepts used car batteries and motor oil. Motor oil must be placed in plastic one-gallon containers. See their website at <http://www.city.west-lafayette.in.us/departments/streetsanitation/index.html> or call 775-5242 for more information.

Foreign students are required to bring their passports to a licensing branch in order to process their license or vehicle registration. Check with a local branch for further information. They will write to the license-holder to obtain a copy of the title and inform you when they receive it. It is recommended that the Auto License Branch be avoided at the beginning and the end of each month, as these are the busiest days. For more information, visit:

WEST LAFAYETTE'S RULES

- Noise Ordinance: Excessive noise can mean a fine of $50 to $500 and a trip to the West Lafayette court. It is in effect all day, every day, but is most often cited at night. Usually, you get a warning visit first, but if the officers come back a second time, you can expect a citation. The minimum fine for any second or subsequent violation shall be $200.

- Cohabitation Policy: Usually no more than three unrelated persons may occupy any house or apartment in the city, and many apartments are zoned for fewer occupants. The city tries to maintain housing standards through housing inspections. Rental properties may be inspected annually, every two years or every four years depending upon where they are located, who lives there and how they are used. You should contact the Department of Development (775-5160) to determine the allowable occupancy of specific properties.

- Parking: Parking in the business district is limited to two hours in any one parking space. In the areas adjacent to campus, public parking may be limited to either one, two or three hours in any one spot. Parking on any city street for longer than 24 hours is prohibited and may result in towing at the owner's expense. Parking on the space between the sidewalk and curb, on the sidewalk, and in front of driveways or fire hydrants is prohibited, as well as unauthorized parking on private property. Fines for offenses range from $15 to $100. Appeals of parking fines must be filed within 14 days of the ticket to be considered.

- Pedestrians: For the city of West Lafayette, pedestrians have the right of way if they are in any crosswalk on the same side of the road as an approaching vehicle. However, the PUPD enforce the state codes only. They do not enforce the West Lafayette City code. Therefore pedestrians on campus only have the right of way when they are crossing at an intersection that has a pedestrian signal and following the rules associated with the signal. On campus, if there are marked crosswalks on a street but no walk-don't walk signals, pedestrians do not have the right of way.

- Bicycles: All bicycles must be licensed with the Police Department. This is a one-time fee of $1.00. Knowing your license number can be beneficial when reporting a lost or stolen bicycle to the Police Department. Bicyclists are required by state law to adhere to the same traffic laws as motor vehicles and are prohibited from riding on sidewalks. You should be aware that a bicycle that is registered can receive a ticket if it is not parked at a legal site (bicycle racks). Outside the University, if racks are available, bicycles should be parked in places that cause minor obstruction to pedestrians. Bikes are not allowed in the buildings.

- Residences: Cutting trees in the public right of way requires a permit from the City Engineering Department (775-5130). Sidewalks must be cleared of snow six hours after a snowfall or sunrise. Littering is prohibited--no trash or junk should be visible on the property.

- Public Intoxication: No person shall bring into, have, keep, carry, serve or drink any intoxicating beverage within the city parks (or on campus).

- Pets: Dogs are not allowed to run loose or to create noise or smells that annoy neighbors or other citizens, and they must be licensed. For more information, specific details, and precise wording of the city ordinances, you should contact the Department of Development (775-5160) or visit:
<http://www.city.westlafayette.in.us/government/citystatecode.html>

PARKING AT PURDUE

A summary of the rules and regulations for parking is given here. For complete information, consult the booklet, Traffic and Parking Regulations, which is available at the Visitor Information and Parking Services Center located in the Northwestern Avenue Parking Garage. You may also call 494-9494, or visit:
<http://www.purdue.edu/parking/>.

If you are going to park on campus, you must get a parking permit, especially if you intend to park during the "Restricted Hours," which are from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday every week of the year, whether or not the university is officially in session.

If you are employed by the University at least 3/4 time, you are considered staff and qualify for an A or a B parking permit. The difference is that you pay more for an A permit for the privilege of parking in the "better" spaces. Contact the parking office for rates for A and B parking. They can be found on the parking website.

Unfortunately, international graduate students are not eligible for either the A or B permits because US immigration restricts international students to only 20 hours (1/2 time employment) of work per week.

If you live about 1.5 miles or more from campus, you may be eligible to get a C permit. There will be two types of C permits available, a surface lot permit or a garage lot permit. You will need to bring proof of your address and driver's license. The precise boundary for the C permit is listed in the Traffic and Parking Regulations booklet. C parking spaces are found in lots on the edge of campus. The CG parking spaces are limited to the top levels of the parking garages. Returning students are able to reserve a CG pass in April for the next academic year. New students can confirm the availability of these permits and verify rates by calling the parking office at 494-9494, or by visiting the Purdue parking website.

Student Housing Parking: Students living in a Residence Hall, Graduate House, or in Purdue Village need to contact their main office for information about obtaining a permit.

Students are not allowed to park at visitors' meters on campus. If you do get a ticket, you have the right to appeal. You must report to the Visitor Information and Parking Services Center within 10 days and fill out a request for appeal. A $3 late fee will be added if you do not appeal and do not pay your fine within 10 days. Your case will be heard by the Student Court. If you feel you've been wronged, by all means appeal, as people frequently do win their appeals!

STUDENT HEALTH INSURANCE

Purdue has a University-subsidized health insurance program, which includes vision, for graduate student staff members who have at least a half-time assistantship (teaching, research, or administrative/professional). Graduate students on fellowships also receive a supplement for medical insurance. All graduate staff must carry the University policy unless they can show healthcare coverage under a different policy. Those who do not hold assistantships are eligible to participate in the voluntary student health insurance program. All international graduate students are required to have health insurance while they are enrolled at Purdue. You should receive an insurance packet from your department before the start of the Fall semester.

Graduate staff must enroll/opt out during the open enrollment period at the beginning of the Academic year. New graduate staff hired after the enrollment period must enroll/opt out within 30 days of their start date. You must select one of two choices.

1. You may choose to enroll in the plan.
2. You may choose to opt out of the plan.

Both choices require an action by you. No action is not an option. Effective Fall 2008, any international student who has not purchased the University-sponsored health plan or received approval of a submitted waiver form for alternative health insurance will have their classes cancelled. Registration will not be completed until the health insurance requirement has been satisfactorily met. Do not delay in obtaining the necessary coverage as the deadline is September 6th, 2008. Failure to do so will cause all classes to be dropped and place a student's legal enrollment status at risk.

Visit the following website for more information and instructions on how to enroll or opt out of the graduate staff insurance:
<https://www.purdue.edu/push/billingInsurance/gradStaffHealthIns.shtml>

Coverage becomes effective with the first day of employment and continues as long as employed in an eligible position

If you have questions, contact a representative of the Student Insurance Office in Room 340 of the Purdue University Student Health Center (PUSH). They can also be reached at 1-765-496-3998 or by email at: student-insurance@purdue.edu. Information on Vision and Voluntary Benefits can be found on the HR website: <http://www.purdue.edu/hr/Benefits/Welcom e.html>
