Purdue DUs Honored at National Leadership Institute

Brother Ricciardi was recognized by the International Fraternity as the “Alumni Volunteer of the Year” for 2005 for his outstanding service to the Purdue Chapter. He follows in the footsteps of the first recipient of the award in 1999 -- Brother Hegeman. Brother Velasquez was recognized by the DU Educational Foundation as one of this year’s recipients of the McQuaid Graduate Fellowship. This fund provides merit-based scholarships to deserving undergraduate students and fellowships to graduate students. Juan is in his second year working on a Ph.D. in Industrial Engineering.

Brother Van Laan accepted two awards over the weekend on behalf of the Purdue Chapter. The Chapter was recognized with the “Excellence in Loss Prevention” award for having the best loss prevention program in 2005. The Chapter was also awarded as one of the “Seven Stars” of the Fraternity for 2005, being selected as a finalist for the 2005 Sweepstakes Award which recognizes the Chapter with the best year in Delta Upsilon.

Purdue DUs are famous for our competitive spirit. On Saturday night, the Fraternity held a “Casino Night” on the top floor of the hotel overlooking the city. More than 200 Brothers attended and had a great time. As part of the Casino Night, a “Texas Hold ’Em” tournament was held with 64 participants. The winner received a 500-chip, four-color, DU monogrammed poker chip set as the prize. The winner and last man standing in the tournament was our own Brother -- Chris Wilcox.

My View: Homecoming in 2005 was a Blast!

by Bill Crocker, ’60 • bill.crocker@comcast.net

It was another terrific Homecoming Weekend. I arrived from California on Friday, just in time to make the traditional Homecoming kickoff reception at the University Inn in West Lafayette.

My era, the late 1950s, was well represented. Harvey Hostetler, ’60, and Jack Elwell, ’62, the “famous” gridiron kings, discussed football strategy while another “king,” Larry Miller, ’59, described his latest woodworking project, the house mailroom setup. I asked him how much he would charge to make a copy of his classic wooden motorcycle masterpiece. When told the price, I decided that it would be cheaper to have the boys at Orange County Choppers make me a real one.

After everyone had partaken of a few adult beverages, Byron Lee, ’51, managed to get our attention to tell us that Dick Hegeman, ’49, was 80 years old. Byron produced a small cake with a large “8” and “0,” each of which had one candle. (It had been decided that 80 candles not only would have melted the frosting but also might have set off the room’s sprinkler system.) We all held our glasses high and sang “Happy Birthday” to one of the Chapter’s most ardent supporters (see photo on page 5).

Saturday’s game between Purdue and Minnesota was exciting but a disappointing loss. The day was glorious with a bright sun and pleasant temperature. (You will recall that last year, the game started at 4PM, lasted four hours, and the temperature was 42F when it finished.) That was not a problem this year.

Alumni President’s Report

President, Purdue Alumni of Delta Upsilon, Inc.

“Mission accomplished.” Last Spring, Purdue’s safety engineer informed Chapter leadership that the house sleeping rooms did not meet university safety codes. Chapter members were not allowed to return to the house in the Fall until the platform sleeping arrangements were modified.

This presented several challenges: A modification plan had to be developed and funds raised. Dick Hegeman, ’49, Reid Ricciardi, ’94, and Norm Williams, ’64, finalized the plan and an appeal letter was sent to all Alumni.

Working at different times, several volunteers stripped, caulked, painted, and rewired the sleeping rooms. An outside contractor built bunks, following a standardized room plan. Each man living in the house now has a bed, desk, and dresser/wardrobe — something not offered in the past. An inspection occurred this Fall resulting in a few discrepancies that were corrected. The safety engineer was quite impressed. His comment was, “Kudos for all the hard work your group has done to bring your Fraternity into compliance. Remarkable!”

The Chapter was blessed with a lead gift of $50,000 for this renovation from Warren Scott, ’48, one of our most generous supporters. With Warren showing the way, the contributions have grown to $120,000. It can only be imagined as to what the Chapter’s financial situation would have been without this Alumni support.

This is the first year since moving into the new house that the Alumni have not had to provide general financial support to the Chapter. It was a break-even school year.

Our Alumni Treasurer Byron Lee, Jr., ’51, can only smile as he contemplates 2010 when the last of the bonds are redeemed. It may be possible to tackle the many projects that have been on hold these many years. Incidentally, bonds are still being contributed to the DU Foundation.

Rush remains the lifeblood of the Fraternity. Twenty-two were pledged in the Fall with 18 to be initiated. If 15 are initiated from the ’06 Spring class, we will be within our goal to keep the occupancy at a break-even level of 60 men. Thanks to Reid Ricciardi, ’94, and Al Parker, ’75, for working with the Rush Committee.

Thanks to Larry Miller, ’59, who spent many hours creating a crisis management document that was approved by the Board. This document will serve as the bible for resolving problems of the violation of university standards and irresponsible acts.

The Alumni Board has contracted with a service and maintenance company to make monthly inspections. Company representatives will work with Norm Williams, ’64, to ensure that code violations are addressed and necessary repairs completed. Cost accountability will also be developed.

Chapter members are very pleased with the new food service program. John Gerberich, ’03, an Alumnus active in the food service industry, addressed last year’s dissatisfaction, created a plan, and hired a cook after many interviews. Now everyone is very satisfied and praise has been received from the entire Chapter. This change was vital and thanks goes to Brother Gerberich for his work.

Not to be overly optimistic, but I think the Chapter is in the best financial condition that it has been for several years. The Alumni are as supportive as ever, and the present group of young men may be the best that the Chapter has seen in years. With that, we can only say, “Go Boilers.”

Alumni Treasurer’s Report

by Byron Lee, Jr., ’51 ● blee9054@aol.com

The Chapter’s Fall financial status is the most encouraging situation that I have seen in many years. Fifty-seven Brothers are living in the House, the highest number since 2000. A large number of these Brothers have paid their room and board, using the annual plan, which improves the cash flow. The accounts receivable are better. However, there are still too many Brothers whose payments are behind by at least 60 days. Everyone who is in arrears at this level is counseled and a payment plan created. This series of actions appears to be working.

Eight Pledges were initiated in January. It is anticipated that the Fall pledge class will have 21 members and the Spring class 10 to 15 members. It is hoped that this number of Pledges will maintain the current level of members living in the House. Maintaining this level is financially important.

The major study and sleeping room renovation and grease trap repair cost more than $60,000. However, these significant improvements removed the fire code violations and fixed a serious problem in the kitchen, much to the Actives’ satisfaction. This renovation project was possible thanks to Warren Scott, ’48, the over 100 Alumni who met his challenge, and the major work performed by 35 Actives, parents and Alumni during the summer work session.

Approximately 50 Alumni signed in at the Friday evening reception and homecoming events. Many compliments concerning the House renovations were received. There is more to do, and continued support from everyone is needed.
Alumni Spotlight:
Al Schleicher III, ’66
by Bill Crocker

Allison Schleicher III, ’66, is of a rare breed, one of the very few Brothers who can claim an unbroken connection with the beginning of the Purdue Chapter of Delta Upsilon.

His grandfather, Allison R. Schleicher, ’14, was a member of the Cleofan Club, which was the Purdue campus men’s club that successfully petitioned the national Delta Upsilon Fraternity to become the Fraternity’s 48th Chapter. He became a founding member of the Chapter upon initiation on December 6, 1914. Allison R. Schleicher, Jr., continued the legacy, graduating in 1939. Al Jr.’s brother, Scott, was also a Purdue DU, graduating a year later.

Brother Al III graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering. He began his career with IBM in 1967 in systems engineering and sales.

Eleven years later, he switched to finance and continued with IBM in San Jose, Calif., in product pricing.

Al was named director of U.S. treasury operations at IBM’s headquarters in Armonk, N.Y., in 1983. During the following six years, he served in executive positions in corporate financial strategy, corporate budgets, was controller of the technology group, and vice president of finance for the IBM Credit Corporation.

Al continued with IBM in the 1990s as chief financial officer for several of the organization’s groups, including technology group, personal systems group, global financing, and global sales and distribution group. He was also involved in headquarters financial assignments in business strategy and product pricing.

He was IBM’s partnership executive for Purdue University. In addition, he represented the organization as a director for Transarc Corporation, Digital Domain Corporation, NHL Interactive Cyber Enterprises, and Rational Software Corporation.

Since his retirement, he has served as a director of Catapulte, Inc., Rational Software Corporation, and BigToeSports.com. He has served on the Boards of Councilors of the University of Southern California’s School of Engineering and its Integrated Media Systems Center. He was a director of the Napa Valley Symphony Association.

He is currently a director of E2OPEN, a supply chain software and services venture; a member of the Dean’s advisory council of Purdue’s Krannert School of Business; and an advisor to Sandium, an HVAC distribution startup, and to a software startup, Nor1.

Al’s many honors and awards include three from Purdue University: Krannert School of Business Distinguished Alumni Award in 1994, honorary Doctor of Management in 2003, and Distinguished ME Alumni in 2004. He views his years at Purdue as a time during which he matured and developed skills for the future.

As a DU, he learned to live, work and play with a great team. This was critical to his success in business and his personal life.

Al and Nancy Schleicher have been married for 30 years and reside in Napa, Calif.

They have two children: Allison R. IV, a computer game developer for Sigil in Carlsbad, Calif., and Marissa, the registrar of the Roswell New Mexico Art Museum.

The House Needs YOU!
The strongest Fraternities and Sororities at Purdue are the ones with active and consistent Alumni involvement and support. Nothing is more important than this to keep our Chapter alive, well, and appealing to prospective Members.

We hope you will keep our Chapter in mind and contribute whatever you can of your time, talent, and treasure. We will always welcome you as an attendee and speaker at our scholarship dinners, initiation ceremonies, meetings with Pledges, and the like.

Our Undergraduates also appreciate your recommendations in recruitment. Please tell us about any Purdue students — present or future — who would be good candidates.

However, four hours up high in the north endzone left little doubt as to where I sat. The “west” side of my face was bright red and peeled for a week.

Cathy Grady and Michele Fettig, the Chapter’s new cooks, outdid themselves with a wonderful barbecue after the game. We had chicken, hotdogs, hamburgers, baked beans, and macaroni salad. There was also a large sheet cake, which was engulfed by the Alumni. Kathie and Michele replaced Cecil Davis who was the Chapter’s cook for eight years. They are very popular with the Brothers. As you know, good chow makes for happy guys.

The Elwells, Richard Huff and his wife, and I retired to the University Inn’s restaurant that evening, watched the end of the Notre Dame/University of Southern California game on TV, and drank a few beers. There was definitely tension in the air as Notre Dame appeared to be on the verge of handing USC its first defeat. I was the only one from California in the room and thought that it would be appropriate for USC to win, since they are ranked the #1 team in the nation. However, I was alone. Although no loyal Purdue alumnus should ever root for Notre Dame, it seems to be worse to root for any California team when it plays the Irish. But, in the end, this misplaced loyalty did no good. USC won.

We stayed a while longer, still catching up on each other’s lives. Finally, I cried “Uncle” and decided to leave. Although I can’t make it next year, the others promised to carry on the comradeship at the next Homecoming Weekend, September 22-24, 2006.

Mark your calendars, Brothers.

Class of 1965 Reunion
Brother Bill Ribble provided the information for this article.

Seven members of the class of 1965 and their spouses reunited during our recent Homecoming weekend. It was the 40th anniversary of their graduation, and attendees included Steve and Eleonore Johnson, Dave and Bev Ackerman, Jim Bishop, and the four Bills: Bill and Claire Ribble, Bill and Susan Bowman, Bill and Julie Damon, and Bill and Linda Briscoe. Festivities included dinner Friday night, the big game on Saturday, dinner Saturday night, and breakfast on Sunday morning.

The fellowship was wonderful, and the conversation and banter were as if they had not lost contact with each other over the years. In fact, some had not seen each other since graduation. Three of the four Bills — Ribble, Damon, and Briscoe — actually knew each other in high school. There were comments about nicknames, memorable experiences (both on and off campus), notable Brothers, and, of course, discussions about kids and grandkids.

Bill Bowman fondly remembered trips to the Wisconsin and Miami DU houses in the 1960s where the boys were allowed to drink beer in the Chapter rooms. Bill Ribble recalled the time that his pledge class rousted Jim Greene, ’63, out of a middle bunk in the horizontal position and then dropped him on to the floor. He bounced! Then there was the time when our old Chapter house on Northwestern Avenue was nearly destroyed by the Fall 1966 Pledges returning from their walkout. The Brothers were ready with hoses hanging out of the windows, fire escape stairs blocked, and furniture piled at the house’s front entrance. (The furniture took the place of... the front door that the Pledges had stolen.)

The Pledges got a taste of “help week” a bit early that year.

The last time that this class assembled was in 1990 for their 25th reunion. All agreed that the next reunion should be much sooner. Tentative plans are for 2010.

We hope to see all of them sooner than that, if possible! 🍀

Scenes from Our Friday Night Homecoming Reception!
Chapter President’s Report
by Ben Van Laan, ’06 • bvanlaan@purdue.edu

During the weekend prior to the beginning of school, retreats were held to prepare for the Fall semester. The Chapter Executive Board met on Saturday, August 20. Alumni Warren Rich, Byron Lee, Reid Ricciardi, and Juan Velasquez attended. The ability to transfer on-going projects from outgoing to incoming Executive Boards, enhanced by the Executive Board officer expectation sheets, was discussed.

An all-Brotherhood retreat was held August 21. Attendance was the best that I’ve seen since I’ve been a DU. It was a very productive afternoon. With the help of Warren, Byron, Reid, Juan, Jim Meek (VP Recruitment), and Marcus Hudetz (VP Loss Prevention), the attendees were separated into smaller groups, and goal-setting, loss prevention policies, and recruitment were discussed. Matt Painter, Purdue’s head men’s basketball coach, gave a speech about how Big Ten college basketball recruitment relates to fraternity recruitment. His presentation was excellent and ended the day nicely.

After the Chapter received the award for the best recruitment at the Delta Upsilon Leadership Institute in Denver this past summer, the recruitment juggernaut continued this Fall. Eighteen new associate members completed Pledgeship (see photo on next page). The retention of the members of this class was higher than it has been for several years. The Chapter’s Fall recruitment program netted a very solid group of 22 Pledges (18 have remained). Although Chapter members are very proud of their accomplishment, it was a bit of a disappointment that the Chapter’s goal of 25 men was not reached. A number of men decided to wait until the Spring of 2006 to pledge, so it is expected that the goal of 15 for that class will be met.

There have been problems with the Chapter’s Judicial Board system over the last several years. It has been difficult to force accountability for the actions or inactions of members because of a lack of acceptable punishment regulations. The Executive Board met with the Judicial Board to brainstorm ways to solve this issue. This resulted in Judicial Board guidelines that will be given to all members of the Chapter. These guidelines clearly state what is expected and the consequences of failure to comply. Alumni Board members will be given copies and comments are welcome, as usual.

Dick Hegeman, ’49, assisted the Executive Board in proposing that each Chapter Executive Board member have an Alumni partner with whom he can share ideas. I thank you all for participating in this important program.
It will reduce Warren’s and Reid’s responsibilities and create a closer bond between members of the two boards.

The Chapter’s 22-member sophomore class attended the Indiana Greek Leadership Conference in October. The keynote speaker was Brother Will Keim, International Chaplain of Delta Upsilon, Pacific ‘71. He was very well received, and the attendees expressed positive comments on the day’s events. Thank you for sponsoring these Chapter representatives. Many leadership positions are open on campus, and a conference such as this one encourages younger Chapter members to become involved in campus activities.

The Brothers presented the second annual DU Dream Girl in November. This philanthropy was restarted last year. The event consisted of girls from various Sororities competing to be the 2005 “Dream Girl” through competitions, such as Change Wars, a trivia competition, and a formal dinner. Thirteen girls competed this year, and nearly $2,000 was raised for the Boys and Girls Club of Lafayette. This amount was three times more than was released last year. It is hoped that this momentum will develop the DU Dream Girl program into one of the most successful philanthropies on campus.

The side room renovations have been completed and look fantastic. The House was ready for occupancy on Sunday, August 14, thanks to your support and all of the hard work this summer. The fire and safety inspection was completed the following week. Alumni, returning to campus for Homecoming weekend, were very favorably impressed with the renovations and the incredible landscaping provided by Brother Bob Jenkins, ’64. Plans to renovate the formal and Chapter rooms are being finalized.

The current Executive Board’s term -- and my term as President -- have come to an end. The new Executive Board was elected in November. Our new President is Tyler Lempa, a sophomore studying mechanical engineering. Others on the Board are Martin Ward, VP Membership Education; Andrew Pottenger, VP Public Relations; Brent Gardner, VP Membership Recruitment; Chris Sieracki, VP Scholarship; Bobby Bonczek, Secretary; Adam Hudetz, Treasurer; Christian Hall, VP Loss Prevention; Lars Moen, Fraternity Social Chairman; Colin Pennington, Sorority Social Chairman; and John Zarse, Philanthropy Chairman. Email addresses and telephone numbers for these men are available at our website: http://web.ics.purdue.edu/~du/members.php

I would like to personally thank you for allowing me to serve as the President of the Purdue Chapter of Delta Upsilon. I have had a chance to meet many Alumni from around the country, and your support is very important to Chapter operations. I am confident that the new Board will do a great job, and its leadership will continue to move the Chapter forward.

Our Chapter held its Initiation Ceremony for the Spring 2005 Pledge Class in September, welcoming 18 new initiates.

Alumni News & Notes

The news you send is deeply appreciated. We hope to hear from every Purdue DU Brother once in a while -- so why not send us the form on page 11 to let us know about your new address, new family member, new job, email address, latest snipe hunt -- whatever?

Gary Arnold, ’57, sends a note from 2908 Oak Ridge Rd., Oak Ridge, N. C. 27310 (email arnold2908@aol.com) to say he’s “retired and living the good life in the Greensboro, N. C., area. He and his wife will celebrate their 50th anniversary next year.”

Larry Funk, ’58, lives at 710-F Constitution Dr., Durham, N. C. 27705 (email lfunk1@nc.rr.com).

Fritz Shumaker, ’55, writes from 112 Cove Point, Montgomery, Texas 77356 (email fshu@consolidated.net) to remind us to save him a parking spot for his RV at the next Homecoming.

Thomas S. Pearson, ’59, tells us he and his wife have been enjoying retirement since Feb., 2002. “I have been so busy doing stuff that looking back I don’t know how I found time to work in the ancient past! Several months ago, Brother Graeme Warner, Ward Miller and I got together with Brother Peter Helferich for dinner. Most of us had not seen Peter for 40+ years! It was a nice evening. My goal in addition to living long enough for my class’s 50th anniversary in 2008 is to get the university and the Grand Prix Foundation to finally acknowledge Peter Helferich’s effort and accomplishment in getting the Purdue Grand Prix started in May, 1958. His pioneering effort has been totally ignored by both the university and the G.P. Foundation over all the past years. It would be great to have Peter invited back to be Grand Marshall and starter of the 50th Anniversary Grand Prix in the Spring of 2008 in recognition of his efforts! Tom resides at 8748 Pleasant Ave., Hickory Hills, Ill. 60457 (email tpearson@comcast.net).

Lee Ringham, ’61, says he lives at 2516 Grandview Dr., Richardson, Texas 75080 (email loringham@msn.com). He says he’s “fully retired now after 22 years in the Army followed by almost 20 years as a systems engineer with Lockheed Martin. The ‘Honey Do’ list from Mary Jayne after remodeling our home has kept me plenty busy since then.”

William D. Murray, ’62, now lives at 744 S. Spring Avenue, La Grange, Ill. 60525. Bill is a real estate attorney and says he hopes to make it to Homecoming soon (email redhead-1@msn.com).

Douglas Hansen, ’69, writes that he retired after 36.5 years with Fort Wayne Community Schools. After parting with most of their worldly possessions, Doug and Sook-Ja, his wife of 30 years, have settled on Jeju Island in Korea where Doug is teaching English at the university. Visitors are welcomed. Doug’s address is Cheju National Univ., Faculty Apt. D-308, 1 Ara 1-Dong, Jeju City, Jejudo 690-756, Rep. of Korea (email dhansen.cnu@gmail.com).

Jeff Unruh, ’83, has started the Utah office of Alerion Capital, Private Equity with Technology Focus. His address is 1570 E. Harrison, Salt Lake City, Utah 84105 (email jeff.unruh@xmission.com).

Wes Weber, ’94, tells us his baby daughter, Saige Brianne, was born on August 1 at 9:08 a.m., weighed 6 lbs., 8 ounces, and was 20 inches long. Saige and Sarah are doing fine.

Jeff Majewski, ’95, resides at 1727 Fir Avenue, Crown Point, Ind. 46307 (email nwiboiler95@yahoo.com).

Kennet De Jesus, ’00, emailed us with his latest news: “I have recently accepted a new job with Honda of America Mfg. in Anna, Ohio. This means a big move for April and me as we uproot from our home here in southern Indiana and head to a strange, new land. I am now working as an Engineering Staff Member in the Aluminum Machining Dept. At the present time, we do not yet know exactly where we will be living and may even have to spend some time apart initially as we go through the process of selling our home and transferring April’s job, so please keep us in your prayers. Though we have relocated recently to Ohio, we're searching for a new home. Our current address is 1866 Towne Park Dr., Apt. 8B, Troy, OH 45373 (email kjesus1@hotmail.com; telephone 937-339-0357). In the meantime, I expect that we'll be keeping our cellphone numbers the same for a while yet. That's all for now. Take care everyone, and wish us luck!”

Michael A. Schrader, ’04, tells us he recently moved to Columbus, Ohio, to work as an exterior design engineer for Honda. His new address is 6175 Lakeshore Dr., Dublin, Ohio 43017 (email michaelschrader@alumni.purdue.edu).

In Memoriam...

John A. Hawley, ’38, died July 22.
F. W. “Dad” Barnes, ’46, passed away Aug. 15 after a short bout with leukemia. He was retired from Armco Steel. “Dad” always had a joke to share and was a friend to all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Martha. Thanks to Paul Miller, ’47, of 3812 Shroyer Rd., Dayton, OH 45420, for this report.

John S. “Jack” Seawright, ’39, Wickenburg, Ariz., died Aug. 14, according to a note from his wife, Anna. He had suffered from Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease for some time. He was retired after 24 years with B.F. Goodrich and 26 years in the Army. Jack was a combat glider pilot during active duty and served as assistant chief of staff and then inspector general in the Reserves. ☭
