Course Description: We examine physical processes in large and small lakes, including wind wave development, mixed layer dynamics, effects of thermal stratification on turbulent mixing, thermal convection, internal waves, and rotational effects.

Prerequisite: Two courses in fluid mechanics e.g. CE340, CE443, CE540, ME309, or ME509

Questions? Email Prof. Cary Troy (troy@purdue.edu)